

BTh in Christian Ministry

It all starts here®

Introduction

The NWU, Faculty of Theology's Unit for Open Distance Learning creates the opportunity for theological education for all. If you are a theological student or wish to become a missionary or youth worker or pastor in any of the reformed, pentecostal or related traditions, or if you are already practising as a religion professional and want to further your theological education, the North-West University's Unit for Open Distance Learning offers you the opportunity without you having to relocate to a NWU Campus.

Method of Delivery

This is a unique and creative way, in which you yourself determine the place, time and tempo of your learning. It allows you to study full-time while you work and gives new momentum to your career through professional training. Electronic as well as telephonic support is available, with personal contact facilitation at learning support centres if you desire it.

The qualification programme is completed on a correspondence basis with direct contact between the lecturer and the student through the NWU's eFundi platform. Study material is available electronically. Students are responsible to buy prescribed text books. All examination papers are set, assessed and moderated by NWU staff members.

Examinations are written at NWU examination centres nationwide. Studies are available in both Afrikaans and English.

Application

Applications close 30 September. A student can also apply in March to start in the second semester. Application forms are available on the NWU's website. <http://jbossprd.nwu.ac.za/aaa-webclient/StudentWebCommand.do?sf=143369&lng=3#/top>

Registration

Students whose applications were successful, register annually through the Unit for Open Distance Learning.
